EXPLORE HULK OF FATED J. S. TODAY

Federal Inspectors and Houston Co. Officials Seeking Body of Jack Plein

THE HULL IS BEING RAISED

One Theory Says Supposed Victim Escaped and Is in Hiding; Streckfus to Build New J. S.

U. S. Inspectors Knapp and Carey, of Dubuque, District Attorney Dahl of Caledonia, and other Houston County officials today went to the scene of the wreck of the Excursion Steamer J. S. 2 1-2 miles north of Victory Wis., and are making a rigid investigation of the wreckage, the circumstances of the burning of the vessel, and a search for the body of Jack Plein, believed by many to be still in the hold of the sunken vessel.

A report from De Soto this morning says a crew was taken from Lansing to raise the hull, but as this is a very difficult task without heavy machinery divers may explore the hull where Plein's body is believed to be. Mayor Dunlevy of Lansing notified Houston county authorities that Plein's body was burned in the boat and the investigation by these officials is made with a view to prosecuting owners of the steamer if it is found that Plein was not released.

Many Theories Advanced There is a big crowd on the scene again today, and fishermen are still dragging the bottom for bodies of possible other victims, although the authorities are convinced that only Plein and Mrs. Randall died.

Is Plein Hiding? One of the unsubstantiated theories advanced is that Plein, intoxicated and vengeful over his arrest, struck matches recklessly and possibly ignited the oakum, turpentine and other inflammable materials in the hull, that he escaped from the boat and is now in hiding, fearing possible arrest. This, however, is declared by others to be an almost impossible theory, although the fire is now believed to have started in the exact spot where Plein was imprisoned beneath the deck.

If Plein's body is not found in the hull, it would then seem that is some reason for this theory and an immediate search will be started in surrounding towns for missing man. The positive statement of Capt. Streckfus, made last night, that Plein was released, to a degree substantiates the theory that the fire may have been started by matches cast by Plein. It is asserted that if he was released and escaped, there would be no reason for his remaining in hiding unless he had started the fire purposely, and that he would be capable of such an act, his friends and acquaintances deny.

A report was circulated last night that Plein had been seen at De Soto, but this is positively denied and is erroneous.

Mayor Dunlevy of Lansing is positive that Plein's corpse will be found in the hull where, he says, he was left handcuffed and imprisoned, and the majority of people of Lansing share this belief despite the denial of Capt. Streckfus and members of the crew of the J. S.

At a special meeting of the Acme Packet company held yesterday afternoon in Rock Island the directors voted to begin at once the building of a new excursion steamer to take the place of the "J. S."

The officers of the company are looking for a boat to continue the season's business, but do not know where to find one.

It is stated positively by the officers that no one was imprisoned in the hold at the time of the fire. One man had been arrested and a watchman placed over him in the hold as was the custom, but he and the watchman left the hold before the fire, they say.

James Barrett of Miles City, Mont., claiming to be a brakeman, arrived in the city today and told a very improbable story. He said he and his wife were on the J. S. at the time of the accident and that the latter, together with four other women, who were in his party, but whose names he did not know, had been drowned. He said he walked all the way from the scene of the wreck. Barrett said the reason this had not been reported before was because he and his wife are strangers and no one knew them.

BEINZE GETTING HOLLAND MONEY

NEW YORK, June 28.—It is reported in financial circles that F. A. Beinze, the copper king, who was recently acquitted in the federal court in the charge of misappropriation of the funds of the Mercantile bank, is being in Holland for several months negotiating for a loan of $1,000,000 with which to rehabilitate his mining ventures in Montana. Beinze's return stockholders in the Beinze properties view with alarm the effect of the falling market upon their holdings.

BIG CHAUTAUQUA OPENS HERE TODAY

Great Tent, Seating 1,500 People, Is One of the Coolest Places in the City

ARRANGEMENTS COMPLETED

And All Is Ready for the Great-Intellectual and Musical Treats Offered La Crosse

The La Crosse Chautauqua under the auspices of the Redpath-Vawter Chautauqua Bureau, was auspiciously opened at 2:30 this afternoon at the High school grounds. The immense waterproof tent, capable of seating 1,500 people was delightfully cool, and was well filled with an appreciative audience when Rev. A. C. Brackett, the superintendent stepped to the stage, and with a few brief remarks declared the Chautauqua week begun.

Mr. Brackett spoke of the excellence of the attractions being offered for the week. With fifty artists, and twenty-one entertainments of supremacy artistic rank, he said there has never been a program offered in their two hundred Chautauquas that excels this one, arranged for La Crosse folk this week.

Ticket Sale Large It is a source of gratification to the management that the advance sale of tickets has been very large, and that all indications are that those at the price of $1.50 will be gone by tomorrow. Mr. Brackett said the week was expected to be a banner one in every respect and thanked the people in advance for their enthusiasm and patronage.

Mayor Sorensen, who was to have been present and make a few remarks, was unavoidably detained by a previous engagement. No happier combination of artists could have been chosen for the opening day, than the charming Kirksmith sisters, six of them, and really and truly sisters. In fact there are nine girls in the family, but only six of them are here. Their program was a feast of the best in music, and their sprightly and dainty numbers won all hearts. The audiences this evening will again have the pleasure of hearing this delightful group. That is one of the best features of the Chautauqua.

Programs are Varied Those who cannot possibly go in the afternoon, will not miss entirely the good musical feature of the week. The programs will of course vary, and in this way those attending both afternoon and evening sessions will hear different selections.

This evening the Kirksmith Sisters will alternate with Miss Evelyn Bargett, cartoonist and reader, and an especially rare evening of fun is promised, for Mr. Brackett says Miss Bargett sweeps everything before her.

Organize Arthur's Court Dr. Mattison W. Chase of Chicago, followed the musical part of the afternoon with his lecture on "Sight and Insight," and at the conclusion the organization of "King Arthur's Court" took place. This will be a fine feature for the boys and girls, between the ages of six and fourteen, and all are urged to join.

Miss Shallenberger of Humboldt, Iowa, the general superintendent of the work, is in the city and organized the court today.

Under her direction, Miss Grimsby, the "Princess," will take charge of the boys and girls for the rest of the time.

No one can overestimate the amount of good done by the "King Arthur Court" along literary lines. It creates a hungering for good books and gives the children an incentive toward the best in reading.

A child's season ticket admits them to the court, which convenes in the morning at 9:30, as well as to all other sessions, or a single admission for afternoon or evening admits them to the court in the morning.

Italian Band Tomorrow The value of securing season tickets will be more fully realized, when it is taken into consideration, that the admission to Ferrante's Royal Italian Guards band concert on Wednesday is alone fifty cents. This is the highest priced attraction of the week, it having cost the sum of $650.00 for transportation alone. The single admissions for other attractions will be thirty-five cents, and five cents additional secures a reserved seat. The seating accommodations of the big tent are ideal and comfortable, and a thoughtful idea of the management is the placing of several rows of seats immediately in front, for the use of the older ones and those hard of hearing.

Sawyers to Speak on "Money" Wednesday morning at 10:45 La Crosse people will have the pleasure of listening to Mott R. Sawyer in his first of a series of lectures on popular subjects.

Mr. Sawyer has a striking personality, and will be one of the big features of the Chautauqua week. His subject tomorrow morning will be "Money."

In the afternoon will occur the long anticipated band concert, by

DROWNS IN CREEK UNDER HIS AUTO

Indiana Man Meets Strange Fate and Six Companions Are Seriously Injured

HAMMOND, Ind., June 28.—Peter Ripley, 30, of Hammond, was drowned early today when he was pinned under an automobile which turned turtle into a creek between this place and Roby. Ripley's six companions were severely injured but will probably recover. The injured: Miss Bernice Brackett, 21, of Hegewisch, cut about face with barbed wire; Frank Baker, 32, Hammond, shoulder dislocated and internally injured; Frank Bick, Hammond, three ribs broken; George Heiser, 25, Hammond, head cut and internally injured; Frank Betz, Jr., 21, Hammond, shoulder broken and internally injured.

Frank Betz and Miss Brackett met the rest of the party at Lake Front Park last night and they had supper together. At an early hour today they started for Hammond. Between Hammond and Roby, Irving Betz, who is reported to have been racing with an electric interurban car, lost control of his machine and it dashed from the road.

The dead man and his injured companions were brought here by the crew of the interurban car.

RIG POLITICIANS DUE IN BOSTON

BOSTON, Mass., June 28.—With an unprecedented list of big political figures of the nation due to arrive here within 24 hours. Bay State politicians look for some startling developments. Ex-President Roosevelt is due here this afternoon and President Taft and Gov. Hughes tomorrow. It is reported that these three will meet in conference with Senators Crane and Lodge of Massachusetts, either at the latter's summer home at Nahant, at the summer white house at Beverly or at Swamp Scott. Former President Roosevelt will spend tonight as the guest of President Lowell of Harvard. Tomorrow he is expected to be the big figure at Harvard's commencement. Tomorrow night and Thursday he will be the guest of Senator Lodge and will probably return to New York on Friday. Gov. Hughes will arrive here tonight or early tomorrow. He will speak to the Harvard alumni tomorrow.

TRAIN ROBBERS STILL AT LARGE

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, June 28.—Despite the fact that fourteen suspects are under arrest in Oregon and vicinity, the authorities today believe that none of them are members of the gang which yesterday held up and robbed Oregon Short Line train number 1 between Ogden and Harrisburg. The bandits are supposed to be in hiding in the caves of Little Mountain near the shores of Great Salt Lake, a few miles off the Lucin cutoff.

FIND NO WHITE SLAVE SOCIETY

Rockefeller's Grand Jury Deplores Condition, but Thinks the Procurers Act Independently

NEW YORK, June 28.—The presentment of the special grand jury which, headed by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has been investigating the "white slave" traffic in New York city, was made public today by Judge O'Sullivan, who a few days ago, refused to accept the presentment and ordered the grand jury to continue its work.

The grand jurors declare that while they found several cases of white slavery in New York they could find no evidence that there was any organization, incorporated or otherwise, engaged in trafficking in women for immoral purposes.

The grand jurors made a scathing denunciation of procurers and procurers whom they declare to be largely on the increase in the city. They urge that these persons be arrested on sight when known to the police and that legislation be enacted to make convictions surer and easier. The presentment denounces the moving picture show as a hotbed of vice and urges more rigid legislation for safeguarding young girls who patronize these theaters. Massage parlors and manuring establishments are severely attacked. The grand jurors declared that they investigated 125 of these establishments and found that they were simply disorderly resorts, guising under different names.

WESTWARD WINS FOURTH RACE

KIEL, June 28.—The yacht Westward, owned by Alexander Smith Cochrane of New York, today won her fourth successive race against the best of the German boats participating in the Kiel regatta. The German yachtsmen are now convinced they have nothing in the Westward's class.

CONDITION OF MRS. SHERMAN GRAVE

BALTIMORE, Md., June 28.—The condition of Mrs. Jas. Schoolcraft Sherman, wife of the vice-president of the United States, who is seriously ill at Johns Hopkins hospital, was reported today to be very grave. The exact nature of Mrs. Sherman's illness as yet has not been disclosed.

MRS. SHERMAN BETTER

UTICA, N. Y., June 28.—The three sons of Vice President and Mrs. Sherman are attending to business as usual today and they state that a message from their father at Baltimore received today says their mother's condition was improved.

"MILL" POUNDERS RIDE ON AIRSHIP

DUSSLELDORF, Germany, June 28.—Count Zeppelin's giant liner, the Deutschland, sailed from here this morning with twenty newspaper men on board.

TRUST CONTROL IS NEW RECORD

Never Before in World's History Has Concentrated Wealth Levied Such Toll—Wickersham

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., June 28.—Describing the growth of federal power over interstate commerce through the action of congress and of the supreme court and telling his hearers how to acquire the best equipment for the practical work of a lawyer's life, Attorney General Wickersham today spoke before the Harvard Law School association. He took as his subject "The Relation of Legal Education to Governmental Problems."

"The history of all nations," said he, "indicates that at a certain period of national development it becomes necessary to interpose by legislation between the capacity of individual greed and justice and fairness to the entire people."

"Never before in any civilization of which we have a record has the machinery of trade lent itself to such far reaching control of great lines of industry by individuals or combinations as at the present day. Nor ever before has it been possible to lay so direct a toll upon the entire public through the concentration of industrial power."

The full significance of the attempt to check the growth of great combination and monopolies, he said, was scarcely perceived at the time of the enactment of the anti-Sherman trust law until successive interpretations of it had been given by the supreme court. He expressed his regret that the crippled condition of that court had prevented a decision in the Standard Oil and tobacco cases at the last term.

U. W. MEMORIAL ON PURCHASED PLAT

MADISON, Wis., June 28.—The free speech memorial of the graduating class of the state university will be erected on a four foot plat of land near the campus, to be purchased from some resident of the city. This is the solution of the problem resulting from the refusal of the university regents to accept the memorial because of its implied criticism of the policy of the regents in suppressing a spirit of insurgency in the school. There is a report that the entire situation was brought about by an eastern magazine writer who framed up an embarrassing situation for the university, and who was so certain of its success after he had persuaded the graduating class to pick such a memorial that he wrote his magazine the story of its rejection by the reactionaries before the regents held a meeting.

OKLAHOMA COMPLAINS

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—Oklahoma through Attorney General Charles West today filed a complaint with the interstate commerce commission against the Pullman company, demanding cheaper uppers.

BIG AIR LINER REPORTED WRECK

Broken Motor Leaves the "Deutschland" at the Mercy of Strong Winds

20 NEWSPAPERMEN ABOARD

Troops Are Held in Readiness to Aid Air Craft as Soon as She Is Located

BERLIN, June 28.—Word was received here this afternoon that the Zeppelin air liner Deutschland was wrecked near Iburg, West Germany.

The big airship had been drifting before the wind for many hours. Her engines had failed and it was unable to make any progress against the wind. Iburg is about 145 miles northeast of Dusseldorf.

No details have yet been received. When last seen the Deutschland was being driven before the wind above the Osnabrueck.

The air liner ascended at an early hour this morning with a score of newspaper men as guests, the intention being to make a voyage over the countryside and return in two hours. Already the Deutschland has been aloft ten hours.

When the heavy wind arose the pilot had to turn the Deutschland back to her anchorage in this city but he found it impossible to maneuver the ship successfully, owing to her broken motor. He then tried in turn to land at Dortmund and Muenster. Both attempts, however, proved too dangerous and were abandoned.

Messages have been sent to all parts of the country over which the Deutschland will be likely to pass and troops have been ordered to hold themselves in readiness to aid the vessel in case she comes to the ground.

Entangled on Trees The Zeppelin was flying along before the winds at a terrific speed. Her commander realized that he was drifting to what in the end would be disaster, so with a hose he had the crew saturate the surface of the balloon with oil and water. The weight caused the great gas bags to lose their buoyancy. Resolved to land at all costs, the commander attempted to bring the air liner into an open field near Iburg, but the gale carried the dirigible beyond the cleared spot and dashed it into the adjoining forest where it now is entangled in the trees and jammed so tightly it is feared it cannot be saved.

May Abandon Trips All the passengers and members of the crew managed to reach the earth in safety, none of them being seriously injured. While battling with the storm and being driven eastward at a frightful speed, the various correspondents on board dropped weighted messages containing telegrams to the general commanding the garrisons at Panderhorn, in Westphalia, asking for the troops be lined up to seize ropes dropped from the balloon in the event she passed over that point. The soldiers were ready but the wind swept the air liner over them at a great height.

The trip was intended to prove to the newspaper men on board the good qualities of the Zeppelin heavy weight. They all declare that Zeppelin will discontinue his air line venture as of too dangerous character to be used for passenger service.

The Berlin press has been unfriendly to Zeppelin since his failure to fly to Berlin on scheduled time and the numerous wrecks that have occurred to his dirigibles.

URGE PINCHOT FOR GOVERNOR

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 28.—Gifford Pinchot, the deposed chief forester, is urged to become the independent candidate for governor of Pennsylvania in an article published here today by the Leader, an independent newspaper. The leader declared he is a resident of Millford, Pa., and for that reason is eligible.

"The Wall Street interests, with the help of President Taft, succeeded in preventing both the democratic and republican party from nominating candidates who had any independent bearings," the article declares. "The Penrose platform is an endorsement of the Aldrich-Cannon combine, the protection of Wall Street and the interests, and the throttling of all independent thought in politics. Particularly is defiance hurled at the 'square deal' and the seemingly popular issues which Roosevelt stood for. Pinchot would represent a decided and emphatic opposition to the Cannon-Penrose platform and under his leadership conspiracy would be foiled and the public could again rise triumphantly over the bosses."

CHARLTON CASE AGAIN DELAYED

Wife Murderer will Be in Court Again July 8, After Extradition Is Settled

MAY NEVER BE EXTRADITED

His Lawyer Cites Former Cases and Says Slayer will Not Be Returned

JERSEY CITY, N. J., June 28.—Porter Charlton, confessed murderer of his wife, whose body was found in Lake Como, Italy, was arraigned before Judge Blair in the court of Oyer and Terminer today and remanded to the county jail until July 8, after a promise from his attorneys that no effort would be made to secure his release on a writ of habeas corpus or lunacy writ before that date.

The delay was sought by Charlton's attorney to ascertain what steps the state department will make in Charlton's extradition to Italy and to allow the alienists further time to study the prisoner's mental condition.

Charlton was in court. He showed no interest in the proceedings and kept his eyes fastened upon the floor during the entire hearing.

The prisoner objected to having handcuffs placed on him while being taken from the Hudson county jail to the court house, so Sheriff Kelly took him in charge personally and led him by a roundabout way to the court house to dodge the photographers.

Charlton was thereupon rushed back to the jail.

After the hearing R. Floyd Clark, of counsel for the prisoner, declared he did not believe Charlton would ever be sent back to Italy for trial. Clark cited the case of Caldwell, "the great American affidavit maker," who was a principal witness in the English suit for the estate of the Duke of Portland, whose alleged heirs declared he led a dual life. Caldwell fled to America and England asked his extradition on the charge of perjury. Caldwell's relatives declared he was insane and he was never sent back to England.

BRINGS HIM BACK WITH HINDU BLUFF

CHICAGO, June 28.—Moses Rubino Penn, a young Hindu graduate of the school of the Brotherhood of Mystics at Bombay, India, today holds a license to wed Miss Irene Smith, while R. Van Zandt is rushing here from Boston after stopping the wedding of the American girl and her dusky suitor. Intimate friends of Miss Smith said today that Van Zandt and the girl were engaged to wed sometime ago in Boston, but quarreled. Miss Smith came here and met the Hindu, who is secretary to a Chicago business man, and accepted his proposal of marriage.

Van Zandt heard of the arrangements for the wedding and sent a "rush" message to Chicago, asking his former sweetheart to await his arrival, which would be on the first train. Miss Smith hurriedly notified the Hindu that she had rejected a woman's right and changed her mind.

S.S.S. CURES RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is a specific blood fermentation, a souring of the circulation from an excess of uric acid accumulating in the blood stream. This uric acid impurity comes usually as a result of constipation, weak kidneys, indigestion and stomach disturbances. These systemic irregularities may not be of marked severity or of long duration, but each has a direct effect on the eliminative members of the body, which prevents the proper removal of the waste products. This refuse remains in the stomach and bowels, and souring forms uric acid, which the blood quickly absorbs.

Rheumatism is usually manifested in the joints and muscles. It is here its sharpest twinges of pain are felt, and stiffening of ligaments and tendons first commences. The pain of Rheumatism is caused by the contact of the sensory nerves with the gritty, acid formation which uric acid causes to accumulate in the corpuscles of the blood about the joints. The stiffening of muscles and joints is usually gradual. Constantly the blood deposits the uric acid into the joints, and slowly the natural fluids are dried up and destroyed. Then Rheumatism becomes chronic and serious. Rheumatism is sometimes inherited, for like all blood diseases it can be transmitted to offspring. This explains why some persons are afflicted with the disease, and suffer its pains, who have otherwise been perfectly healthy.

S.S.S. cures Rheumatism and cures it permanently. It goes into the circulation, and removes the uric acid, purifies the blood, and in this way destroys the cause. S.S.S. changes the blood from a sour, acid-steeped stream to a rich, healthy fluid, which quiets the excited nerves, eases the throbbing muscles and painful joints, and filters out of the circulation the irritating matter which causes every painful symptom of the disease. When the blood has been purified and enriched by S.S.S., it nourishes the different members that have been weakened and starved because of imperfect blood. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

FAREWELL OF REV. A. LINCOLN SHUTE

Pastor of King Street M. E. Church Leaves Yesterday for New Pastorate at Bismarck, N. D.

Rev. A. Lincoln Shute, pastor of the First M. E. church, left the city last night with his family for Moline, for a short visit before going to his new home in Bismarck, N. D., where he accepts a new pastorate. Mr. Shute has been in the service here nearly two years and has been recognized as a strong worker and an earnest advocate of strict orthodoxy.

Sunday morning he preached his farewell sermon at the King street church.

The text was from 2 Cor. 1:3-5: "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort; who comforteth us in all our affliction, that we may be able to comfort them that are in any affliction, through the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God. For as the sufferings of Christ abound unto us, even so our comfort also aboundeth through Christ."

The supreme need of humanity is deliverance from sin. The second and hardly less necessary need is comfort in sorrow. But this second need cannot be met, except the first has been provided for. Milton expressed a necessary law of life, as well as the truth of God, when he spoke "Of man's first disobedience and the fruit Of that forbidden tree, whose mortal taste Brought death into the world and all our woe."

Sin, disobedience to the righteous law of God, is what wrought the world's curse, and still works it. We know Christianity's answer all sufficient to man's first and greatest need. But what is her response to the sorrowing soul's cry for comfort? The answer is in the text, which shows that

The Bible reveals the God of all comfort. Through nature we know the wisdom and power of God. But no man, by mere reason, on the basis of nature or philosophy, can demonstrate with a satisfying certainty that he is a God of comfort or love. Reason confirms, but cannot originate such knowledge. In revelation, however, we learn with a satisfying certainty of the sympathetic heart of God. This is made sure by the revelation of himself. Therein we learn that just as he is our God by creation, so also by redemption he becomes our Father through adoption and the new birth from above. In Jesus Christ, the express image of his person, and the only one who could say, "He that hath seen me hath seen the Father," we have an object lesson revelation of the character of God, an incarnation of the Divine love and mercy. God is "the Father of mercies." Just as the devil is the father and source of sin, falsehood and sorrow, so also is the Father, Creator and source of all mercies.

—He is merciful. He is the "God of all comfort." He is the giver of all the real comfort that the world affords. Thou, O Lord, art a God full of compassion, and gracious, long suffering, and plenteous in mercy and truth." Such is the God of the Bible to all his children. And he longs for all to become his children—to this privilege he invites all with an invitation of infinite love.

The Bible appeals to experience as the demonstration of the truth of revelation. So did the Christ. "If any man wills to do his will, he shall know of the teaching whether it is of God." So also does the Apostle Paul in the text—"Who comforteth us in all our affliction." In the same chapter Paul relates his own experience. He had trouble, was pressed out of measure, beyond strength, despaired even of life, and had in himself even the sentence of death. Nevertheless he trusted in God, who had delivered him, who was continuing to deliver, and who, he was sure, would still deliver. He speaks of "our light afflictions, which are but for a moment, which work out for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory." He says, "I reckon that the sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory which shall be revealed in us."

The experience of God's people in all ages is like that of Paul, and millions still would rise to testify, as a matter of positive knowledge and blessed experience, of the unfailing mercy of God that has supported them, even when all other helpers fail and earthly comforts flee. A Japanese gave this testimony at a Methodist conference: "I was a poor heathen boy, and troubled and sinful. I went to Shinto and cried, O, save my poor sinful soul! but no help me. I went to Confucius and read his words, but my sinfulness not cured. I went to Buddha and waited long, but he did not help. I went to Jesus. He cured me. Hallelujah!"

These words express the experience of all with reference to sin and sorrow who have come to Jesus. Our God comforteth us in all our affliction. Often we receive much help from the comfort of friends. But the time comes in every life when some sorrow is met with for which human sympathy is unavailing. Then the divine arm alone can give needed support. Infinite wisdom, infinite love alone is sufficient. At such times we can confide only in one who has the power, the wisdom, the heart, the will to do all things well and to make all things work together for good to them that love God. Human sympathy often is insufficient; but there is no affliction beyond the reach of Divine comfort. "Earth has no sorrow that Heaven cannot cure."

As the sufferings of Christ abound unto us, even so our comfort also aboundeth through Christ." The comfort always is proportioned to the sufferings; for "He knoweth our frame: He remembereth that we are dust." God always closely identifies himself with his children. "In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them; in his love and in his pity he redeemed them, and he bare them, and he carried them all the days of old." Sometimes the people of God have been tempted to say, "The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me." But the infinite Father always has responded, "Can a woman forget her child? Yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee. Behold I have craven thee upon the palms of my hands."

The gospel makes men comforting agents to one another. "That we may be able to comfort them that are in any affliction through the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God." It is the method of God that saved men shall become the agents of saving others. Likewise, it is his will that those whom he has comforted shall become the channels of Divine comfort to the sorrowing. Qualification for this service comes from the two fold experience of sorrow and comfort from the real source of comfort. So also was our High Priest made a perfect Savior through suffering.

But especially does Christianity succeed in answering the cry of the sorrowing soul for comfort because it presents Jesus Christ as the medium of our comfort. "Our comfort aboundeth through Christ." This is true because first of all he provided eternal redemption for us. He has met the world's first and greatest need—deliverance from sin. He has reconciled us to God. He has washed us from our sins in his own blood. He has given us the right, privilege and power to become children of God, if we will. And having thus provided for deliverance from sin, which is the cause of all sorrow, and having brought us through his atonement into filial relations with God, Christ has become the only sufficient ground of comfort, just as he is the only ground of forgiveness and adoption into the family of God. "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ." We confide in God because he is the Father of the world's Redeemer; he sent his Son to show his love and save a world of rebels. That Redeemer can be trusted as equal to the great demand, because he is God. Others may fail—but he can never fail. He promised and sent the Comforter that he may abide with you for ever. He himself suffered, and having thus been made a perfect Savior for men through suffering, he is able to succor all sorrowing humanity. How true is the sentiment of these lines by Mr. Ryan:

ported them, even when all other helpers fail and earthly comforts flee. A Japanese gave this testimony at a Methodist conference: "I was a poor heathen boy, and troubled and sinful. I went to Shinto and cried, O, save my poor sinful soul! but no help me. I went to Confucius and read his words, but my sinfulness not cured. I went to Buddha and waited long, but he did not help. I went to Jesus. He cured me. Hallelujah!"

These words express the experience of all with reference to sin and sorrow who have come to Jesus. Our God comforteth us in all our affliction. Often we receive much help from the comfort of friends. But the time comes in every life when some sorrow is met with for which human sympathy is unavailing. Then the divine arm alone can give needed support. Infinite wisdom, infinite love alone is sufficient. At such times we can confide only in one who has the power, the wisdom, the heart, the will to do all things well and to make all things work together for good to them that love God. Human sympathy often is insufficient; but there is no affliction beyond the reach of Divine comfort. "Earth has no sorrow that Heaven cannot cure."

As the sufferings of Christ abound unto us, even so our comfort also aboundeth through Christ." The comfort always is proportioned to the sufferings; for "He knoweth our frame: He remembereth that we are dust." God always closely identifies himself with his children. "In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them; in his love and in his pity he redeemed them, and he bare them, and he carried them all the days of old." Sometimes the people of God have been tempted to say, "The Lord hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me." But the infinite Father always has responded, "Can a woman forget her child? Yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee. Behold I have craven thee upon the palms of my hands."

The gospel makes men comforting agents to one another. "That we may be able to comfort them that are in any affliction through the comfort wherewith we ourselves are comforted of God." It is the method of God that saved men shall become the agents of saving others. Likewise, it is his will that those whom he has comforted shall become the channels of Divine comfort to the sorrowing. Qualification for this service comes from the two fold experience of sorrow and comfort from the real source of comfort. So also was our High Priest made a perfect Savior through suffering.

But especially does Christianity succeed in answering the cry of the sorrowing soul for comfort because it presents Jesus Christ as the medium of our comfort. "Our comfort aboundeth through Christ." This is true because first of all he provided eternal redemption for us. He has met the world's first and greatest need—deliverance from sin. He has reconciled us to God. He has washed us from our sins in his own blood. He has given us the right, privilege and power to become children of God, if we will. And having thus provided for deliverance from sin, which is the cause of all sorrow, and having brought us through his atonement into filial relations with God, Christ has become the only sufficient ground of comfort, just as he is the only ground of forgiveness and adoption into the family of God.

"Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ." We confide in God because he is the Father of the world's Redeemer; he sent his Son to show his love and save a world of rebels. That Redeemer can be trusted as equal to the great demand, because he is God. Others may fail—but he can never fail. He promised and sent the Comforter that he may abide with you for ever. He himself suffered, and having thus been made a perfect Savior for men through suffering, he is able to succor all sorrowing humanity. How true is the sentiment of these lines by Mr. Ryan:

"He walked beside the sea; he took his sandals off To bathe his weary feet in the pure, cool wave— For he had walked across the desert sands All day long—and as he bathed his feet He murmured to himself, 'Three years! Three years! And then, poor feet, the cruel nails will come And make you bleed; but that blood will lave All weary feet on all their thorny ways.'"

Thus does the Gospel of the Man of Nazareth give an all sufficient answer to the two greatest needs of the human soul: deliverance from sin and comfort in sorrow. And the blessings offered through Christ are limited only by the necessary requirements of righteousness, being for all who can say, Our Lord Jesus Christ, To take Jesus as our Lord and God, our Master, our Savior, our King, is to participate in the blessings which come from the Father of infinite love through him, among which are these, deliverance from all sin, satisfying comfort in all sorrow, and final translation into the heavenly kingdom where the inhabitants never say, "I am sick," where God wipes away for ever all tears from our eyes, and where the wicked cease from troubling, and the weary are at rest.

SCORES COMING TO FIGHT FOR BOB

Men of National Reputation to Take the Stump for Senior Senator in July

MADISON, Wis., June 28.—Scores of men high in national and state politics and friends in the cause in the smaller communities will take the stump for Robert M. La Follette in the latter's fight for re-election to the United States senate. Never in any Wisconsin campaign has so distinguished an array of speakers been entered in a single contest as that which will begin early in July in the bitter struggle of the progressives against the machinations of the eastern interests.

The greatest of the insurgents in both houses of congress will give freely of their time and talents during the summer and fall in the cause of Senator La Follette. All of them realize that the Wisconsin senator cannot rely on large campaign funds to win his seat in congress, and that all he can command to combat the big slush funds poured in from the east is the loyal support of his fellow-insurgents. This has been offered him in such abundance as to give rise to high hopes for success.

Senator La Follette himself will make his first speech of the campaign on July 2 at Rice Lake. He will speak at a Good Government league picnic at Milwaukee about July 7 or 8, and on July 9 will speak at a Modern Woodman picnic in the same city. Later he will tour the state.

Judge Ben B. Lindsey of Denver will speak in Wisconsin on August 1, 2, 3, 4, 8, 9 and 10. All his dates are in southern Wisconsin, two of them in Congressman Cooper's district. One will be in Madison. The other cities are not announced.

Among the speakers next fall are United States Senators Moses Clapp, Minnesota; A. J. Beveridge, Indiana; J. P. Dolliver, Iowa; A. B. Cummins, Iowa; and W. E. Borah, Idaho. James A. Peterson, a prominent Minneapolis lawyer, former member of the Minnesota legislature, and graduate of the university of Wisconsin in 1884, will also take the stump for the senior senator in the fall. From the lower house of congress will be Representatives John M. Nelson and H. A. Cooper and from the upper house of the state legislature there will be Senators A. W. Sanborn, Ashland; Walter C. Owen, Maiden Rock; Thomas Morris, La Crosse; J. J. Blaine, Boscobel; and John C. Kleczka, Milwaukee. A number of university students will go on the stump for the senator, including J. J. Ruble, '10, Platteville, who represented Wisconsin at the northern oratorical contest at Minneapolis last spring, and Charles C. Pearce, '09, Dodgeville, instructor in public speaking at the university of Illinois, winner of the northern oratorical contest two years ago. Both are members of the Athenae Literary society, to which La Follette belonged. Another La Follette spellbinder will be Frank T. McNally, Superior, a democrat, but a La Follette man from head to foot.

In addition to the above, the following well known men, representing the legislature past and present, and the state government, will take the stump: Assemblymen J. T. McConnel, La Crosse, and Charles A. Ingram, Durand; Duncan McGregor, Platteville; Secretary of State James F. Frear, Hudson; Deputy Insurance Commissioner Herman L. Ekers, Whitehall; Assistant Attorney General Frank T. Tucker, Neillsville, and Attorney Otto Bosshard, La Crosse.

Representative I. L. Lenroot of Superior will speak at Hawkins on July 4 and will devote the entire month of August to Senator La Follette's campaign. Senator Thomas Morris will speak at Barnevill, Iowa county, on July 4, the occasion being a Woodman picnic. He will also speak at Superior on July 17 at a picnic of the United States Polish society. Representative Cooper will speak at Whitewater on July 4. Secretary of State Frear will be the orator at the Society of Equity meeting at Lake Chetek July 2.

Senator La Follette is engaged to speak at Platteville July 29. He has been flooded with calls for speeches, and demands for immediate dates have come from Oshkosh, Merrill, Tomah, Monroe, Delavan, Beloit, Marinette, Sturgeon Bay, Green Bay, La Crosse, Oconomowoc, Waukegan, Fond du Lac, Eau Claire, Superior and Grantsburg. He is also wanted at the Kilbourn Chautauqua next week. Francis E. McGovern, Milwaukee, is scheduled to speak at Rice Lake Chautauqua on his own behalf as a candidate for governor.

TIMELY FOR LA CROSSE

If there is any poetry in keeping boards, according to the status of that business given general acceptance, it is the sort one finds in the jokebooks. However, there is a thought in the following homily taken from the Ladies' Home Journal which we commend to the timely attention of La Crosse people:

"From time immemorial the keeping of boards has been a common occupation among women; often a sordid and dreary business, the employment of helpless widows. But it is an opportunity for human service. Capable and energetic women who are looking about for some effective use of their time may well consider it as one of the promising professions. For a boarding house is the best thing to home itself. It is a substitute for the comfort and protection and joy of the life of the family. The woman who is at the head of such a household is in the place of a mother."

"This is notably true in an academic town, where boys and girls are away from home for the first time. To provide them with food and towels is to meet the least of their necessities. They need human interest and friendly counsel and words in season. The woman who can provide these blessings is doing the work of the ministry. Where there is a considerable district of such detached persons—students or clerks or mill workers—such a boarding house, with spacious living rooms and opportunity not only for eating, but for music and dancing as well, is an oasis. A company of considerate people who will rent a place in such a neighborhood, furnish it simply and attractively, enlist a strong, interested and influential woman as house mother, and open it at a reasonable charge to girls who need it, will make an effective addition to the social forces of a town."

Homelike boarding houses are rare. In a city like La Crosse there is always a demand for them, and as they merit patronage they usually get it. It is the establishment of the La Crosse normal school in this city that makes this subject of peculiar interest at this time. A great many young people have spent the year with us, and there will be more next year. They are away from home and they want and need a home here. We suggest that in catering to their necessities those who may be disposed to accept the obligation take careful thought of the suggestion in the foregoing quotation. It is wise and good; it helps and it pays.

THE GOOD ROADS QUESTION

The current number of the Saturday Evening Post contains a concise statement of the importance of good country roads. We wish every member of the La Crosse County Board of Supervisors would read the following:

In 1909 the states, counties, cities, towns and school districts of the United States borrowed more money than ever before, issuing bonds to the amount of three hundred and forty million dollars, which is over one-third the funded debt of the Federal Government. Among the purposes for which the bonds were issued "streets and bridges" stands first, accounting for twenty-one per cent of the total; but the improvement of public highways represented by this expenditure of seventy-odd million dollars was pretty largely confined to the cities. The plan of "state aid" for country-road improvements has been adopted in more than half the states and is under consideration in most of the others.

Many counties, during the year, issued bonds for road improvement. Agricultural colleges, the Department of Agriculture at Washington and various volunteer bodies are doing excellent educational work for better highways, but we still think the subject receives less attention than it deserves.

True, it is prosaic. No dramatic appeal to the imagination is possible on its behalf. Colorado, for example, floated eleven million dollars of irrigation bonds last year, and there one can readily visualize the new wealth that will spring from the investment. But to lessen the cost of country-road haulage is tantamount to creating wealth. Very likely it is still true, as an investigation showed it to be in 1905, that the average cost of hauling a bushel of wheat over the short distance from the farm to the railroad station is almost half the cost of conveying it by rail from the station to the seaboard and more than half the cost of carrying it across the Atlantic; and the average cost of hauling a hundred pounds of cotton from the farm to the railroad is sixteen cents.

Within the borders of La Crosse County today certain railroads are doubling and even quadrupling their investment in various stretches of track, for the single purpose of reducing grades. Railroads are not philanthropists, neither are they moved by pride to make big investments. They have figured out that in ten years the saving of coal and the avoidance of wear and tear of rolling stock afforded by the level track as compared to the inclined will pay back every dollar they have put in, and from that time this double saving will be net profit. It is equally true that money spent in La Crosse county in the building of scientific highways would all come back in ten years, while the improvement and the saving from it would be perpetual.

Seldom is an accident fraught with danger to hundreds of people accompanied by so few misfortunes as attended the burning of the J. S. The indication is that officers, crew and, for the most part, passengers behaved themselves in a commendable manner.

Important as is the selection of big men for the supreme court, we kind of like Teddy Roosevelt's idea that Governor Hughes should forego that honor in order to remain a fact-

New Scientific Treatment Kills Dandruff Germs, and Makes Hair Soft

It is an accepted fact, a proven fact, that dandruff is a germ disease; and it is also a demonstrated fact that Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ. Without dandruff falling hair would stop, and thin hair will thicken. Herpicide not only kills the dandruff germ, but it also makes hair as soft as silk. It is the most delightful hair dressing made. It cleanses the scalp from dandruff and keeps it clean and healthy. Itching and irritation are instantly relieved, and permanently cured. There's nothing "just as good." Take no substitute. SPOTLIGHTS

GOOD BILL AT MAJESTIC

The Majestic theater this week, beginning with the afternoon performance yesterday which opened at 3 o'clock yesterday offers one of the best aerial gymnastic acts that has ever appeared in Europe and America. It is the celebrated Riva Larsen troupe consisting of two women. They are head liners on the bill and one of the biggest and most sensational acts of its kind that has ever been brought to this city. They do their work on four hanging ropes, having originated the idea themselves and copyrighted it. They show all sorts of muscular feats demonstrating unusual endurance and skill. The act closes with a finale that is sensational. It consists of one woman holding the other three people, weighing 545 pounds, on one arm while hanging downward.

The four members of the troupe are excellent specimens of physical culture. They approach nearly the perfect human being and have arrived at this stage of perfection only by dint of the hardest sort of gymnastic work and the observance of training rules. Their act is a marvelous demonstration of muscular endurance and one that every man, woman and child in the city should see.

Deas, Reed and Deas, known as the best colored actors in vaudeville present their comedy singing, talking and dancing act. It is an audience winner. Their songs make you beat time on the floor and their talking and dancing cause you to hold your sides in laughter. One of the actors is a comedian one of the real colored clowns that keeps the audience in a continual uproar. The troupe consists of a woman and two men.

The Swickards, actors of ability present their musical comedy entitled, "The Shoplifters." The comedy has a clever plot, furnishing many interesting situations. The act is well recommended and should be one of the favorites this week.

The bill closes with Ed. Harley, vaudeville's eccentric entertainer Harley is well known in the show business, having lately been a member of Haverly's Mastodon Minstrel show.

The usual moving pictures and illustrated song are offered. Remember the Majestic is the coolest place in the city. Later $4.00 worth of new fans, one of them the largest exhaust fan in the city, have been installed. Go and seek refuge from the hot weather at the coolest spot in the city.

A Rising Youth

"We were waiting for the elevator to come down," said a commercial traveler, "after discussing the probability of an aeroplane's crossing the Atlantic ocean within a year, when, just as the cage was about to ascend, one of the party said, 'I'll bet $10,000 that it won't be done'—and the elevator boy took him up."—Everybody's Magazine.

A BOY'S HOLIDAYS

The ardent controversy which has been waging in England and America concerning the best way to dispose of school boys in the long summer vacation has prompted the Grand Trunk Railway System to issue a special publication giving suggestions and practical hints to parents as to what to do with the school boy during the months of July and August. The vacation camp is one of the solutions and the publication entitled "What Shall a Boy Do With His Vacation?" thoroughly covers the ground. A copy may be obtained for the asking by applying to H. G. Elliott, 917 Merchants Loan and Trust Bldg., Chicago.

A conductor on the Great Western railroad of England recently retired after fifty years of service, and it is estimated that during that time he traveled 3,370,000 miles.

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

Buy an Aeroplane
I would not be a butterfly;
I envy not the bird
The wings that lift him to the sky.
I hope to have some by and by,
But that may be deferred.
Mere wings, for all the poets say,

Would be more toil than gain;
But, when the thing has "come to stay,"
When it's quite safe, I hope I may Possess an aeroplane.

The stranger beating at my door
Whom I have cause to shun
Would not annoy me as before;
I should not shiver at the bore
Or tremble at the dun.

But lightly to my rooftop spring,
And on mine airy craft
Serenely from their presence wing,
Leaving them there to knock and ring
Till they were dead or daft.

And then, to sally far and wide,
To see, as from a cloud,
The haunts of privacy or pride,
Places one wants to see inside
Because it's not allowed.

The grounds about the ducal hall,
The parvenu's abode,
The park, the palace—most of all
The nunnery, behind the wall,
So baffling from the road.

In truth 'twould be a dear delight
These hidden realms to see;
But, oh, it is the secret night
When the advantages of flight
Mostly appeal to me.

There is a certain man I hate.
With divers plot and plan
I have schemed early and schemed late,
Seeking a just and adequate
Revenge upon that man.

Yet one by one they came to naught;
Some were too gentle; some
Involved the risk of being caught
(Which wouldn't do at all); I thought
My chance would never come.

But now—some night I hope to go
In one of these machines,
Armed with a good stout bomb;
and, oh,
Rapture! with any luck I'll blow
That man to smithereens.

A Long Island man was holding forth with respect to the "borrowing habit" so common in suburban communities, when he was reminded of the following instances:

A writer of miscellaneous matter, being just then engaged on an article on pessimistic literature, learned that one authority he wished to consult—Eduard von Hartmann—was to be found in the library of a lawyer of the place. Accordingly, the writer repaired to the lawyer's house and asked the loan of the volume.

"You are entirely welcome to it," said the owner, "but you mustn't take it from my library. I'm sorry, but I've lost so many books through lending them that a year ago I registered a solemn vow never to let another volume leave my house."

The writer thanked the lawyer, but of course he did not avail himself of the privilege extended him. Some time later the lawyer came to the writer and asked to borrow his lawnmower.

"I am delighted to lend you my lawn mower," said the writer, "though it is my rule never to permit it to leave my lawn. There, however, you may use it to your heart's content."—Lippincott's.

"Won't you please give me an order," pleaded the persistent drummer.

"Certainly," replied the crusty proprietor. "Get out!"—Lippincott's.

Merely as a Precaution

Those citizens of Milwaukee who art of German extraction, like many of those fellow countrymen elsewhere, greatly esteem sauerkraut as a food staple. On one occasion a Milwaukee Gekman was speaking of the high price of cabbage. "I deli you," said he, "dese cabbages is awful in price, seven, eight barrils of sauerkraut every year—but we can't do year. Dem cabbages dey cost too much."

"You put up some sauerkraut, Hans, didn't you?" asked a friend.

"Oh, yes—two or three barrels maybe—ust to haf in de house in cast of sickness."—Brooklyn Life.

The X-Ray Eye

Prof. Percival Lowell, the eminent Martian astronomer, said in a recent interview in New York:

"The Martian canals are not Panama canals. The word 'canals' you know, really mean 'lines.' It shouldn't be taken literally, as the servant girl in Boston took the parlor magic."

"An amateur magician in a Beacon street house was going through his tricks while a maid passed in and out with refreshments.

"The magician was reading letters placed under a rug as the maid brought in a tray of lemon ices.

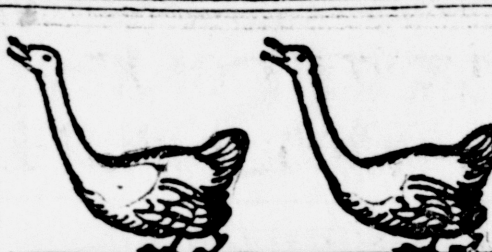

"What letter is this?" a spectator asked.

"That is B," the magician answered, and, sure enough, his answer was correct.

"The maid looked with astonishment at the letter which had been hidden under the rug. She turned her gaze on the handsome young magician, who had read it. Then, setting down her tray of ices, she hid her rosy face in her hands and ran out of the room.

"What's the good of me clothes?" she cried.—Washington Star.

G-T-H-E Goose Girl

"Oh, indeed!" said Goldberg, bowing with ridicule. "Since when did her serene highness make you her confidante?"

"Her serene highness told me so herself," Gretchen's eyes, which had held only mildness and good-will, now sparkled with contempt.

A roar of laughter went up, for the majority of them thought that Gretchen was indulging in a little plesantry.

"Ho-ho!" So you are on speaking terms with her highness," Herr Goldberg laughed.

"Is there anything strange in this fact?" she asked, keeping her tones even.

The vintner made a sign to her, but she ignored it.

"Strange?" echoed Herr Goldberg, becoming furious at having the interest in himself thus diverted. "Since when did goose-girls and bar-maids become on intimate terms with her serene highness?"

Gretchen pressed the vintner's arm to hold him in his chair.

"Does not your socialism teach that we are all equal?"

The vintner thumped with his stein in approval, and others imitated him. Goldberg was no ordinary fool. He side stepped defeat by an assumption of frankness.

"Tell us about it. If I have spoken harshly it is only reasonable. Tell us under what circumstance you met her highness and how she happened to tell you this very important news. Every one knows that this marriage is to take place."

Gretchen nodded. "Nevertheless, her highness has changed her mind." And she recounted picturesquely her adventure in the royal gardens, and all hung on her words in a kind of a maze. It was all very well to shout, "Down with royalty!" it was another matter to converse and shake hands with it.

"Hurrah!" shouted the vintner. "Long live her highness! Down with Jugendheit!"

There was a fine chorus. And there was a fine tableau not down on the evening's program. A police officer and three assistants came down the stairs quietly.

"Let no one leave this room!" the officer said sternly.

The dramatic pause was succeeded by a babel of confusion. Chairs scraped, steins clattered, and the would-be liberators huddled together like so many sheep rounded up by a shepherd-dog.

"Ho, there! Stop him, you!" It was the vintner who caused this cry; and the agility with which he scrambled through the window into the blind alley was an inspiration.

"After him!" yelled the officer. "He is probably the one rare bird in the bunch."

But they searched in vain. Gretchen strolled ruefully at the blank window. Somehow this flight pained her; somehow it gave her the heartache to learn that her idol was afraid of such a thing as a policeman.

"Out into the street, every mother's son of you!" cried the officer angrily to the quaking socialists. "This is your last warning, Goldberg. The next time you go to prison for seditious teachings. Out with you!"

The socialists could not have emptied the cellar any quicker had there been a fire.

Gretchen alone remained. It was her duty to carry the stein up to the bar. The officer, rather thorough for his kind, studied the floor under the window. He found a cutting from a newspaper. This interested him.

"Do you know who this fellow was?" with a jerk of his head toward the window.

"He is Leopold Dietrich, a vintner, and we are soon to be married." There was a flaw in the usual sweetness of her voice.

"So? What made him run away like this?"

"He is new to Dreiberg. Perhaps he thought you were going to arrest every one. Oh, he has done nothing wrong; I am sure of that."

"There is one way to prove it." "And what is that?"

"Ask him if he is not a spy from Jugendheit," roughly.

The steins clicked crisply in Gretchen's arms; one of them fell and broke at her feet.

CHAPTER XII.
Love's Doubts.

Gretchen, troubled in heart and mind over the strange event of the night, walked slowly home, her head inclined, her arms swinging listlessly at her side. A spy, this man to whom she had joyously given the flower of her heart and soul? There was some mistake; there must be some mistake. She shivered; for the word spy carried with it all there was in deceit, treachery, cunning.

In war time she knew that spies were necessary, that brave men took perilous hazards, without reward, without renown; but in times of peace nothing but opprobrium covered the word. A political scoundrel, the man she loved. No; there was some mistake. The bit of newspaper cutting did not worry her. Anybody might have been curious about the doings of the king of Jugendheit and his uncle the prince regent. Because the king hunted in Bavaria with the crown prince, and his uncle conferred with the king of Prussia in Berlin, it did not necessarily follow that Leopold Dietrich was a spy. Gretchen was just. She would hear his defense before she judged him.

Marking the first crook in the Krumerweg was an ancient lamp hanging from the side of the wall. The candle in this lamp burned night and day, through winter's storms and summer's balms. The flame dimmed and glowed, a kindly reminder in the gloom. It was a shrine to the Virgin Mary; and before this Gretchen paused, offering a silent prayer that the Holy Mother preserve this dream of hers.

A footstep from behind caused her to start. The vintner took her roughly in his arms and kissed her many times.

Her heart shook within her, but she did not surrender her purpose under these caresses. She freed herself energetically and stood a little away from him, panting and startled.

"Gretchen?"

She did not speak.

"What is it?"

"You ask?"

"Was it a crime, then, to jump out of the window?" He laughed.

Gretchen's face grew sterner.

"Were you afraid?"

"For a moment. I have never run afoul of the police. I thought perhaps we were all to be arrested."

"Well, and what then?"

"What then? Uncomfortable quarters in stone rooms. I preferred discretion to valor."

"Perhaps you did not care to have the police ask you questions?"

"What is all this about?" He pulled her toward him so that he could look into her eyes. "What is the matter, Answer!"

"Are you not a spy from Jugendheit?"

He flung aside her hand. "So! The first doubt that enters your ear finds harbor there. A spy from Jugendheit; that is a police suggestion, and you believed it!"

"Do you deny it?" Gretchen was not cowed by his anger, which her own evenly matched.

"Yes," proudly, snatching his hat from his head and throwing it violently at her feet; "yes, I deny it. I am not a spy from any country; I have not sold the right to look any man in the eye."

A DOCTOR'S EXPERIENCE
 Medicine Not Needed in This Case

"It is hard to convince some people that coffee does them an injury. They lay their bad feelings to almost every cause but the true and unsuspected one."

But the doctor knows. His wide experience has proven to him that, to some systems, coffee is an insidious poison that undermines the health. Ask the doctor if coffee is the cause of constipation, stomach and nervous troubles.

"I have been a coffee drinker all my life. I am now 42 years old and when I taken sick two years ago with nervous prostration, the doctor said that my nervous system was broken down and that I would have to give up coffee."

"I got so weak and shaky I could not work, and reading your advertisement of Postum, I asked my grocer if he had any of it. He said, 'Yes,' and that he used it in his family and it was all it claimed to be."

"So I quit coffee and commenced to use Postum steadily and found in about two weeks' time I could sleep soundly at night and get up in the morning feeling fresh. In about two months I began to gain flesh. I weighed only 145 pounds when I commenced on Postum and now I weigh 167 and feel better than I did at 20 years of age."

"I am working every day and sleep well at night. My two children were great coffee drinkers, but they have not drank any since Postum came into the house, and are far more healthy than they were before."

COAL

Proposals for furnishing the whole or any part of the following quantities of coal, to be delivered as hereinafter specified, will be received by the State Board of Normal School Regents of Wisconsin at its office in Madison, Wis., Room 27 of the west wing of the Capitol until 10 o'clock a. m., Saturday, July 9, 1910. At that time the bids will be opened for tabulation by the Secretary of the Board and the bids announced. No bids will be received after 10 o'clock a. m., July 9, 1910.

The Executive Committee will meet to award the contracts at the office of the Board in Madison at 10 o'clock a. m., Saturday, July 16, 1910.

Each bid should include Youghiogheny screenings.

900 tons of bituminous coal, lump, egg, mine run, nut, pea or screenings, washed or unwashed, for the State Normal school at La Crosse, Wisconsin. The bid for La Crosse should include Pocahontas, run of mine.

900 tons of bituminous coal, lump, egg, mine run, nut, pea or screenings, washed or unwashed, for the State Normal school at Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

800 tons of bituminous coal, lump, egg, mine run, nut, pea or screenings, washed or unwashed; and 9 tons of anthracite egg coal, for the State Normal school at Oshkosh, Wisconsin.

500 tons of bituminous coal, lump, egg, mine run, nut, pea or screenings, washed or unwashed, for the State Normal school at Platteville, Wisconsin.

250 tons of bituminous coal, lump, egg, mine run, nut, pea or screenings, washed or unwashed, for the State Normal school at River Falls, Wisconsin. The bid for River Falls should include Pocahontas, mine run, smokeless coal.

450 tons of bituminous coal, lump, egg, mine run, nut, pea or screenings, washed or unwashed for the State Normal school at Stevens Point, Wisconsin.

600 tons of bituminous coal, lump, egg, mine run, nut, pea or screenings, washed or unwashed, for the State Normal school at Superior, Wisconsin.

300 tons of bituminous coal, lump, egg, mine run, nut, pea or screenings, washed or unwashed, for the State Normal school at Whitewater, Wisconsin. The bid for Whitewater should include Buckwheat anthracite coal.

The above amounts are only estimates of the needs of the normals. In case any normal runs out of coal after receiving the amount of coal called for in the foregoing specifications, the contractor supplying such normal will be required and shall agree to furnish a sufficient additional supply at the contract price, to satisfy contingent needs to July 1, 1911.

Contractors will be required to furnish the several normals the following amounts of coal before December 1, 1910:

Crosche, Wis. 100 tons
 State Normal School,
 Milwaukee, Wis. 100 tons
 State Normal School,
 Oshkosh, Wis. 100 tons
 State Normal School,
 Platteville, Wis. 100 tons
 State Normal School,
 River Falls, Wis. 100 tons
 State Normal School,
 Stevens Point, Wis. 100 tons
 State Normal School,
 Superior, Wis. 100 tons
 State Normal School,
 Whitewater, Wis. 100 tons

The coal must be of the best quality and preparation of the kinds offered. It will be weighed as delivered, by or under the direction of the resident regents of the several normals and payments made monthly in accordance therewith.

Coal to be delivered in such quantities and at such times as the Board of Normal Regents shall direct.

Bids must state explicitly the name and location of the mines and the preparation of the coal.

The quality, as well as the price, will be considered in awarding contracts, and the Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids, if in its judgment the interests of the state will be thereby subserved.

Bids should be endorsed "Proposals for Coal."

MAJESTIC WILL CLOSE SUNDAY

Manager Koppelberger will End His First Season in the New Play House; Open August 15

Manager F. L. Koppelberger of the Majestic theater today announced that the theater would close for the present season with the second performance Sunday evening. It is the plan of the management to reopen on August 15th.

This will mark the close of the first season in the new play house which has been running since a short time after New Years. The season has been successful and the patrons of the theater have been enabled to witness better and more refined vaudeville than ever before. The management will make it a point to continue the same good service for the people when the theater reopens.

Plans for the summer are as yet not arranged.

There is one curious phenomenon in hypnotism which I have never been able to explain satisfactorily and which seems to be ignored by the modern hypnotist. "It was first studied by Braid. It is called phreno-magnetism and has been advanced by phrenologists in proof of the correctness of their localization of the mental faculties on the head."

"As far as I know it has never received serious consideration from scientists, perhaps because based on two theories that modern science has not yet accepted: first, that there is such a thing as animal magnetism and, secondly, that the phrenologists have correctly located the faculties on the human head."

"However this may be, phreno-magnetism is a phenomenon which can be tested readily by anyone interested. The technique of phreno-magnetism is this: When the subject is in the hypnotic sleep the operator, standing behind him, places the tips of his fingers upon the subject's head and waits. Soon the subject will begin to act or sing or speak. Anyone acquainted with the phrenological system of localization will recognize at once that the actions or words of the subject correspond to the organ on the head which has been touched by the operator."

"Thus if you touch combativeness the subject is very apt to square off and strike some one or speak of war or a drum. If you touch veneration he is very apt to lift his eyes and pray. I have heard a very eloquent sermon thus inspired in a subject who was gifted with a ready tongue."

"Touch the organ of color and he will speak of beautiful colors. Touch tune and he will sing or whistle. Touch caution and his face will express vivid fear. I remember that one subject startled me by shouting 'Look out!' and making a leap that he could scarcely have equaled in his waking state. When I touched the faculty of caution he thought he saw a snake."

THREE HURT IN RUNAWAY TODAY

Smith Coulee Farmer and Two Young Ladies Injured when Team
Runs Off

When a street car was derailed at La Crosse street and Losoy boulevard today shortly afternoon, a team owned by a farmer named Leibel of Smith's corner, ran off, smashed up the buggy and Leibel sustained a bad cut on the forehead. There were two girls in the rig with him, 14 and 15 years of age, one of whom received a bad cut on the knee. Both were bruised. The two seated spring buggy was wrecked, the pole broken and dashboard broken off. The injured people were taken to the home of Henry Filler, near the scene, until they resumed their journey home.

LA FOLLETTE ASKS ROOSEVELT HERE

That Is Believed to Have Been His Mission when
He Called on the Ex-
President

LEFT DINNER TO SEE HIM

Badger Senator Probably Carried a Message from the Faction He Represents

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—Senator Clapp gave a dinner last night to Senators La Follette, Borah, Bristow and Brown. It was a progressive dinner.

Following that dinner and at midnight Senator La Follette left here hurriedly for Oyster Bay.

Senator Clapp left for Minnesota. Senators Borah, Bristow and Brown are still here. They may see Senator La Follette today.

There is some speculation whether Senator La Follette carried messages from that progressive dinner party. Close friends aver that he did not know when he went to the dinner he was to leave that night for Oyster Bay. But there is the possibility of an exchange of telegrams. It is certain La Follette was invited to confer with Colonel Roosevelt and that he had the conference today.

There have been rumors that President Taft is to invade Wisconsin in September and preach party regularity. Senator La Follette, who is not a party regular, invited the presidential visit. Colonel Roosevelt is to speak at the convention in September. It may be that Senator La Follette has induced Colonel Roosevelt to speak in Wisconsin on this trip to St. Paul. The senatorial primaries in Wisconsin are to be held early in September. Senator La Follette will have scored a great hit if both President Taft and Colonel Roosevelt speak in Wisconsin and take different sides as to party principles and policies.

Stand Patters Scarce
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—In administration circles the statement by Senator La Follette yesterday after his visit to Sagamore Hill that Col. Roosevelt is the "greatest living American" and that he is "in fighting trim," was received with various emotions.

"My mail is simply so heavy that I am overwhelmed," grinned "Uncle Joe" Cannon, as he emerged from the White house today.

"Why don't you go out and chop down a few trains up in the capitol?" asked a reporter.

"Uncle Joe" shifted his cigar, scratched his head and answered: "Why, if I could play upon all the colors of the world as Theodore—within the words of a western senator whom I won't name, but you may figure him out—I would say 'God rested when he made me and was glad.'"

Senator Carter, republican, Montant, also had read about La Follette and T. R. and he wore his most sarcastic expression as he said:

"I notice that the senator said Roosevelt was the 'greatest living American' and, wagging his head fondly, said 'he was in fighting trim.'"

RIOTING MARKS STEEL WALKOUT

BRIDGEPORT, O., June 28.—Dynamiting and rioting marked the beginning today of a strike that closed the Laughlin sheet tin mill of the Whittaker Glasser Company at Martins Ferry, employing 1200 men. A majority of the men, all of whom are members of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers, quit rather than work with men who refused to contribute 10 per cent of their wages for the 4,600 members of the Amalgamated on strike against the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company.

CORPSE FLOATS 10 MILES IN 36 HOURS

DUBUQUE, Iowa, June 28.—(Special.)—The body of an unknown man was found floating in the Mississippi this morning ten miles below Dubuque on the Illinois shore. The body is in a bad state of decomposition. The floater was identified as Fred Abitz, 45, drowned at Dubuque Sunday afternoon. The body floated 10 miles in 36 hours.

ITALIAN WILL RECOVER

BEVERLY, Mass., June 28.—Under inspiration of messages of sympathy from President Taft and the care of the best surgeons in Boston, whom the president could engage, Michael Thistwoila, the Italian who was run down and seriously injured by an automobile driven by Robert Taft, is today rapidly improving. His recovery is now believed assured.

DYING BANDIT BEGS FOR FORGIVENESS

Writes Letter to Mother and Sisters Pleading with Them Not to Grieve
for Him

LYNN, Mass., June 28.—"Mother, forgive," is the substance of a plea made today by Wasili Ivankowski, one of the three bandits who Saturday killed Thomas A. Landrean and Policeman Carroll.

Ivankowski, indicted for murder, has been taken to Salem jail. Today in the cell where he was held while here, was found a letter written in Russian, on a scrap of paper which reveals the dying of the last hope in the desperate bandit. It was as follows:

"Dear Mother, Brothers and Sisters: I send you my last regards and beg you not to cry for me, and lose your strength, as you have not it to lose. I write now that I have been arrested in quick time and will be sentenced to death, but for what cause I will not write. I bid you farewell, kissing you, though not in person. Please forgive me for not obeying you. Now it is too late."

Andy Absen, another of the yeggs, is still alive in the Lynn hospital, though he may die at any hour. Joe, the third of the bandits who was shot dead, was buried today without other identification.

NEW MONTE CARLO AT HAVANA, CUBA

HAVANA, June 28.—Plans are completed today for beginning work on what the promoters intend to be the biggest sporting resort in the western hemisphere. It is to be built on the high banks of the Almendares river, in what is known as Buena Vista. Just inside the corporate limits. It will be backed by Cuban and the Havana city council has incorporated a $400,000 company.

The Havana city council has already granted the company a ten years' franchise that permits of practically every known form of gambling and other of the generally prescribed sports. All that remains to make this franchise operative is the signature of the mayor and Aldredo Mesa, the head of the enterprise, says no trouble will be found in getting the mayor's signature.

NEW TARIFFS FILED

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 28.—The central freight association including all the railroads operating in Ohio, Indiana, Michigan and Illinois today filed its new tariff on commission. It is to become effective August 1 and represents a general increase of from 10 to 15 per cent. The tariff of the trunk lines operating in the east are expected by Friday.

NO MORE GRAY HAIR

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made and used a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair, and are fast following suit. The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready-made preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. As a scalp tonic and color restorer, this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers, and it can be bought for 50 cents and $1 a bottle at almost any first-class drug store, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by O. T. Erhart.

TRIAL ENDS IN THE MAD HOUSE

Beautiful Frau Von Schoen-beck-Weber Goes Insane on Eve of Trial
for Murder

BERLIN, June 28.—The mental strain of a prolonged murder trial made Frau Von Schoenbeck-Weber a raving lunatic. The trial has been abandoned and the woman sent to a mad house. It is not believed she can recover her reason.

Frau Von Schoenbeck-Weber was being tried on the charge of having instigated the murder of her husband, Major Von Schoenbeck on Christmas Day, 1907, and having been an accessory to the murder committed by Captain Goeben, who ended his own life. The trial was held in Allenstein, east Germany.

Owing to the exalted birth and high rank of the woman, together with the circumstances surrounding the murder the trial was a national sensation in Germany. Her latest husband, A. O. Weber, a celebrated author, was constantly at her side. She had been out on bail and living in London until the trial was called. She is a woman of 33 but so beautiful that she could pass for a girl of 20.

ROOSEVELT MEETS AN OLD FRIEND

NEW YORK, June 28.—Although the roads leading from Oyster Bay were dangerous from the heavy rainfall of last night, this morning Col. Roosevelt annexed another record to his already long string. In his new fifty horsepower touring car he covered the distance from Sagamore Hill to the Grand Central station, New York, in just 40 minutes.

On his arrival he shook hands with all the porters in sight, as well as the engineer and fireman of the train that was to bear him to Boston. Just as he was entering his stateroom he was stopped by a letter carrier, gray and bent with years.

"Well, I declare," exclaimed Mr. Roosevelt, patting the old man upon the back. "Here is my old friend Jerry," he continued, turning to the crowd that had collected. "Jerry elected me to the assembly just twenty-eight years ago and I never shall forget that day."

WILL SENTENCE DR. HYDE TOMORROW

KANSAS CITY, Mo., June 28.—The sentence of life imprisonment will be pronounced formally upon Dr. B. Clark Hyde tomorrow in case the motion for a new trial is denied.

Although the attorneys for the convicted slayer of Col. Thomas H. Swope are allowed four days in which to file a motion for an arrest of judgment, it is believed they will waive this privilege. After Dr. Hyde is sentenced he will have the option of remaining here in jail or going direct to the penitentiary at Jefferson City. It is believed he will choose to remain in the jail so as to be near his wife, Judge Latsch having ruled that he may go to his home for a few hours when the stork pays its expected visit there soon.

SEEK REMEDIES FOR CORRUPTION

PEORIA, Ill., June 28.—After listening to further exposures and denunciations of petty graft methods in the Illinois legislature and ex-corporation of the republican law makers for failure to enact an effective corrupt practices act, delegates to the non-partisan convention were ready this afternoon to take up the question of applying remedies to the existing evils.

INSTRUCTION TO BROWNE JURORS

Judge McSurely Warns
Them He Does Not Want a Mistrial, and Urges a Decision

CHICAGO, June 28.—Judge McSurely called the jurors in the Browne bribery case into the court room at 12:18 o'clock this afternoon and delivered further instructions, although Attorney Forrest of the defense, protested against the action. The court warned the jurors to consider only the evidence and not to allow stubborn pride to interfere with an agreement. He declared that there ought to be a mistrial and if possible a verdict should be returned.

The jurors said no word and gave no indication as to how they stood.

HEN'S NEST FOUND IN PECULIAR PLACE

A hen of the Houdan species was found on the farm of Henry Bailey brooding nine peeps in a nest between the forks of an old cherry tree where they were hatched out, says a Dallas (N. Y.) correspondent. The hen is the property of George Smith, who now resides at Seven Valleys, to which place he moved on the first of April.

When he left the hen was among the missing, and he asked Mr. Bailey, his son-in-law, who took charge of the farm, to watch for her. A search was made, but he was unable to find her hiding place until the other day.

Where an old ladder was inclined against the trunk of an old cherry tree Mr. Bailey noticed two chicks several days old at the base and running about peeping. While wondering where they came from he was surprised to see the hen fly from the fork of the tree and come to the relief of her offspring. Further investigation revealed the nest in the tree, together with seven more peeps and an unhatched egg, which proved to be rotten.

The chicks on the ground had fallen from the nest, which had been formed by a lot of brush and old leaves deposited there by the elements during the fall and winter months. Mrs. Houdan and her happy family have been provided with better quarters and are doing well.

ELKS RAISE THE TIGERS' PENNANT

DETROIT, Mich., June 28.—All arrangements were completed today for the third American league pennant raising by the Detroit Tigers at the opening of the first game of the Detroit-Chicago series here this afternoon. The Elks are in charge of the ceremonies.

Taste is Localized.

Taste is curiously localized in the mouth. Put a lump of sugar on the tip of your tongue and you will find it distinctly sweet. All sweet or aromatic substances, such as wine, sugar and coffee, can be properly appreciated by the front half of the tongue, a piece of knowledge that every true connoisseur applies when he sips instead of taking a mouthful. With most other substances, however, the reverse is true. In these cases the tip of the tongue serves only for touching—it is the back part that tastes. The sides of the mouth, too, are quite insensible to certain substances not tasteless. Put some salt or vinegar between the teeth and the cheek and you will find them absolutely flavorless.

Free Sample For Baby's Ills

Something can and must be done for the puny, crying baby, for the child that refuses to eat and is restless in his sleep. And since the basis of all health is the proper working of the digestive organs, look first to the condition of the stomach and bowels.

A child should have two full and free movements of the bowels a day. This emptying of the bowels is very important, as with it comes a clear head, a lightness of step, good appetite and sound sleep. But it is equally important to know what to give the child in the emergency of constipation and indigestion. Cathartics are too strong and salts and other purgatives are not only too strong, but the child refuses them because of their bad taste. Have you ever tried Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin? It is a liquid tonic that families have been using for a quarter of a century. It is pleasant-tasting and promptly effective. It is good for you as well as the child, but there is nothing better to be found for children. They like its taste and you will not have to force them to take it.

First of all, if you have not yet used it, Dr. Caldwell would like to send you a sample bottle free of charge. In this way you can try it before buying. Later, when convinced of its merits, you can get it of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as thousands of other families are doing. The family of Mr. D. W. Spangler of Strattonville, Pa., as well as that of Mr. A. F. Johnson of Walnut Grove, Tenn., started with it in one family necessity next to food itself. If you are unfortunate enough to have a sickly child, one given to constipation and indigestion, you should send for a free sample of this remedy.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge. Explain your case in a letter and he will reply to you in detail. For the free sample simply send your name and address on a postal card or otherwise. For either request the doctor's address is Dr. W. B. Caldwell, R. 534 Caldwell building, Monticello, Ill.

EGYPTIAN MARTYR EXECUTED TODAY

Ibrahim Wardani who Shot
Premier Boutros Pasha
Put to Death in Secret

CAIRO, Egypt, June 28.—Ibrahim Wardani, a nationalist student, whose assassination early in the year of Premier Boutros Pasha called for a scathing denunciation at the hands of Col. Roosevelt when the latter spoke before the students of the university of Egypt, was hanged here today for his crime. The execution occasioned intense excitement owing to the fear of a demonstration by the nationalists. The government, however, made ample provision against this and there has not yet been the least disorder, although the nationalists are holding meetings throughout the city.

Wardani ascended the scaffold, proclaiming himself a martyr, a role that he had assumed since the commission of the crime. "I die for the cause of Egyptian liberty," were his last words.

The hanging was secret, even the newspaper men being excluded from the prison yard where the scaffold was erected. The prison was entirely surrounded by troops, while hundreds of troops patrolled the streets and mingled with the crowds on the streets.

FIGHT IN STREET FOUR ARRESTED

Two Young Men Plead Guilty and Pay a Fine,
while Other Two
Stand Trial

A disgraceful fight occurred on South Third street last evening when four young men made an exhibition of themselves in the middle of the street. The police were called and Joseph Feyett, George Boisvert, John Franklin and Tom Higgins were arrested and taken to the police headquarters. It appears that the young men had been drinking, then began to quarrel and finally it wound up in a sort of a free for all fight.

This morning the quartet was arraigned before Justice Edward Cronin in police court, charged with fighting. Feyett and Boisvert pleaded guilty and were each fined $7.50. The other two pleaded not guilty.

The Nature of Germs.

Ordinary air is by no means air proper, but contains a number of impurities, and the air of all cities always contains a quantity of almost measurable particles of dirt. With this dirt we are sure that small particles of living matter are associated. These small bodies, coming into a fluid rich in nutrient matter, grow up in it and at its expense. To these small bodies it is now the universal custom to attach the name "germs." What these destroyers are we do not, of course, know. We only know that they exist, and that they commit the most deadly ravages wherever they get the chance. The great problem of present day science is to learn more about them, that the ravages may be reduced, if not eliminated.
